

Meridian Jet Center Adds Third Shift of Award Winning Services

TETERBORO, NJ, August 10, 2007 – Meridian Jet Center recently added a third shift to their Monday-Friday maintenance schedule in addition to their regular hours on Saturday and Sunday. Meridian's FAA Approved 145 repair station is located in the new, state-of-the-art, 40,000 square foot hangar at Teterboro Airport.

Meridian's repair station is a Honeywell authorized service center and is EASA certified with an award winning crew including avionics specialists.

"This is another step in achieving our goal of offering our award -winning services to our loyal customers and new clients as frequently and efficiently as possible," said John Langschultz, Vice President of Jet Maintenance.

For the seventh year in a row, the Meridian Jet Center earned the FAA Diamond Award Certificate of Excellence along with eight Meridian mechanics who were presented the FAA, Aviation Maintenance Technical (AMT) Award.
