FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MERIDIAN AIR CHARTER EXHIBITS AT EBACE2012

Teterboro, NJ, May 17, 2012 – Meridian Air Charter was well-represented at EBACE2012, which was held this week at the Palexpo and Geneva International Airport in Geneva, Switzerland. Meridian, which was a co-exhibitor with Avinode, sent three members of its Charter team to represent the company, meet with prospective customers, and discuss its vast array of private aviation services with attendees. Mike Moore, Director of Aircraft Management, had this to say, “Teterboro Airport is a key port-of-entry into the US from Europe, so it is absolutely critical to the growth of our business to have a strong presence in this market. EBACE is a great venue towards that goal”.

EBACE, which stands for European Business Aviation Convention & Exhibition, is the premier annual meeting place for the European business aviation community. Each year, it is jointly hosted by the European Business Aviation Association (EBAA), and the National Business Aviation Association (NBAA). This year’s event, which ran from May 14-16, 2012, featured exhibits, a static display of aircraft, education and M&O sessions. The show attracted 12,638 attendees from 99 countries, which is on par with last year’s show. Some 491 exhibitors occupied a record-breaking 2,280 booth spaces at the Geneva Palexpo convention center.
